

Intrepid Submarine Surface Abandonment Clothing - ISSAC

International Safety Products Limited (ISP) is the World's leading manufacturer of Marine inflatable lifejackets.

Built to SOLAS, CEN, Canadian, Australian or Military Standards, the ISP range utilises the very latest in textile technology and innovative design. Buoyancies of up to 400 newtons are achieved using CO₂ or Nitrogen as the inflation gas and are widely recognised as the most innovative on the market.

Additionally ISP provides a range of 'SOLAS' Immersion Suits which now includes the Military 'Intrepid, Once-Only Survival Suit' (IOOSS). An abandonment style garment now single sourced by the UK MoD Fleet (c.25,000 units) and under consideration by other Navies around the World for their surface ship, abandonment procedures.

A combination of ISP's core technologies has been used to create a specific ensemble for Submariners, the 'Intrepid Submarine Surface Abandonment Clothing' (ISSAC).

ISSAC includes a version of the IOOSS coupled with a purpose designed 150 newton, orally inflated lifejacket. Attached to this is a deployable sprayhood. The whole ensemble can be donned in under three minutes and weighs a mere 1.5Kgs. An optional thermal lining is also available.

To complement this core range ISP also offers the very latest in 'Tactical Waistcoats' which, due to their modular design offer total flexibility for Special Projects Teams. Complete with detachable, 275N buoyancy, compact lifejackets, the waistcoats are at the forefront of the industry.

Backed by its ISO 9001:2000 Quality Assurance approval, ISP provides equipment into the Leisure, Commercial, Offshore and Military markets. ISP is also the UK distributor of the World renowned, SOLAS approved, ZODIAC life raft and rescue boats.

ISP is an experienced supplier of offshore and marine safety packages complemented by a team of experts available to assess customer requirements.
